

Learning disabilities...

Adults who are dyslexic find reading effortful and difficult, and read slowly.

Adults who are dyscalculic find that numbers make little sense to them.

Do either (or both) of these fit you ??

Would you like to be tested to help with a research study?

We are looking for 18-35 yr old adults with reading or maths learning disability (or both) to take part in a research study about the causes and symptoms of learning disabilities. It involves 1½ -3½ hours of testing (interview, written, and on computer) on up to two occasions. All participants will receive a detailed copy of their test results.

To find out more, or to volunteer, email anna.wilson@auckland.ac.nz, or phone 373-7599 x83401. You will need to be screened for eligibility in an initial telephone interview.

This study is being conducted by Dr. Karen Waldie (Senior Lecturer) and Dr. Anna Wilson (Research Fellow) of the Department of Psychology at The University of Auckland.

APPROVED BY THE UNIVERSITY OF AUCKLAND HUMAN PARTICIPANTS ETHICS COMMITTEE on 20/3/2008 for a period of 3 years from 20/3/2008. Reference number: 2008/008.
